LEARN FROM WORLD-RENOWNED EDUCATORS AND PRACTITIONERS IN VETERINARY ACUPUNCTURE

Learn from instructors with over 75 years combined experience practicing and teaching veterinary acupuncture and traditional Chinese veterinary medicine (TCVM), including world-renowned speakers Drs. Huisheng Xie, President and Founder of Chi University, and Silvia De Lucchi, Director of Chi Italy.

THE BENEFITS OF HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE
PLUS THE CONVENIENCE OF ONLINE LEARNING

Chi's hybrid learning system incorporates hands-on experience through small on-site acupoint labs, real acupuncture case demos, and case presentations. In Chi's state-of-the-art online learning portal, knowledge is gained through virtual lectures and demos you can stream at your convenience.

JOIN THE CHI FAMILY, GET LIFE-LONG SUPPORT

More than 10,000 veterinarians from over 75 countries have completed courses at Chi since its founding in 1998. This community of (TCVM) practitioners share knowledge and support at the annual international conference and through Chi's online forums. All Chi graduates receive free lifetime case consultation from Chi faculty.

Huisheng Xie DVM, PhD

Founder and President of Chi University

Dr. Xie has 41 years clinical, teaching and research experience in veterinary acupuncture and TCVM. He has trained over 10,000 veterinarians to practice TCVM worldwide. Dr. Xie's education includes advanced training in veterinary medicine, veterinary acupuncture, and human acupuncture. Dr. Xie has authored 20 books and over 100 peer-reviewed papers. His textbooks, including Xie's Veterinary Herbology, Xie's Veterinary Acupuncture, and Traditional Chinese Veterinary Medicine-Fundamental Principles have been used for TCVM training programs around the world. Dr. Xie continues to teach and develop educational courses and programs at Chi University, serves as a full clinical professor at University of Florida's College of Veterinary Medicine, and is an honorary professor at China Agricultural University, South China Agricultural University and China Southwest University.

Lorena Lloret Nadal DVM, CVA, CVBMA, CVFT, CVCH, CVTP

Director of Chi Europe

Dr. Lloret received her DVM from Murcia University in Spain in June 2002. In 2005, she earned her veterinary acupuncture certification from the Chi Institute (now Chi University) and the University of Chiang Mai in Thailand, where she met Dr. Xie. In 2006, she completed the University of Florida Acupuncture Internship program with Dr. Xie. In December 2014, Dr. Lloret became the chief of the TCVM Service of the veterinary teaching hospital of the University Alfonso X in Madrid, Spain, where she offers TCVM clinical service for small animals and horses, as well as offering TCVM as a complementary treatment to veterinary clinics throughout Madrid. Dr. Lloret is the translator and editor-in-chief of the Spanish edition of TCVM: Fundamental Principles by Dr. Xie. She is the director of Chi Europe in Madrid, Spain, where she is also one of the primary instructors.

Roger Clemmons DVM, PhD, CVFT, DACVIM (Neurology and Neurosurgery), CVA

Dr. Clemmons received his DVM from Washington State University, as well as a PhD in veterinary science (emphasis in neurophysiology and clinical neurology). Dr. Clemmons then took a faculty position at University of Florida's College of Veterinary Medicine where he practiced neurology and neurosurgery for 35 years. He earned certifications from Chi in acupuncture (2000) and food therapy (2009). A board-certified specialist in Neurology, Dr. Clemmons has published over 100 peer-reviewed papers and has presented in the US and abroad on neurology and the science of veterinary acupuncture. He has worked on platelet physiology and the study of neurodegenerative diseases such as degenerative myelopathy, as well as developed a number of innovative neurosurgical techniques including fixation of atlantoaxial subluxation and Wobbler's syndrome.

Silvia De Lucchi DVM, CVA, CVBMA

Director of Chi Italy

Dr. Silvia De Lucchi graduated with a Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine from Parma University in Italy, in 2006. After graduation she practiced small animal medicine with a focus on internal medicine and surgery. Also interested in physiotherapy, she attended the Certified Program in Canine Physical Rehabilitation (CCRP) from the University of Tennessee in 2012. Dr. De Lucchi obtained her Acupuncture Certification at Chi Europe in 2013. She continued her education and training in traditional Chinese veterinary medicine (TCVM) by completing courses in herbal medicine, Tui-na therapeutic veterinary massage, Japanese acupuncture, and balance method acupuncture. She established her own practice where she treats primarily small animals, horses and cattle, integrating acupuncture, moxibustion, physiotherapy, herbal medicine, and food therapy in her clinical approach.

CVA PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The course begins with an overview of fundamental aspects of Chinese Medicine, including Yin-Yang and Five Elements theory, which serve as a foundation for case diagnoses and treatment presented later in the class. A variety of acupuncture techniques are taught, including electro-acupuncture, aqua-acupuncture, moxibustion, etc. in addition to conventional "dry" needling. Three track options are available: small animal, equine and mixed practice (which includes both small animals and horses). In acupoint labs, students learn acupuncture points on dogs or both dogs and horses depending on the selected track.

Chi's hands-on acupoint labs and low student-to-instructor ratio ensure you gain the confidence to start practicing acupuncture after the first on-site session.

The course is presented in 2 online sessions and 3 hybrid sessions. Each hybrid session includes two portions: online & on-site. Online portions are comprised of lectures and case demos that students can stream at their own convenience. On-site portions give students the opportunity to learn acupuncture points on live animals in small acupoint lab groups of four to six students per instructor.
