

Deep-Sea Creatures

1 Look at the contents page. Where can you read about jellyfish?

Common Core State Standards (Reading: Informational text): RI.3.5

2 Why is red a good color for camouflage in the deep sea?

Common Core State Standards (Reading: Informational text): RI.3.1

3 What does “transparent” mean?

Common Core State Standards (Reading: Informational text): RI.3.4

4 True or false? Most deep-sea animals glow.

Common Core State Standards (Reading: Informational text): RI.3.1

5 Where is an anglerfish’s lure?

Common Core State Standards (Reading: Informational text): RI.3.1

6 How does the author feel about hagfish?

Common Core State Standards (Reading: Informational text): RI.3.6

7 Explain how a viperfish can fit big prey in its mouth.

Common Core State Standards (Reading: Informational text): RI.3.3

8 Do ghost sharks have a bone skeleton?

Common Core State Standards (Reading: Informational text): RI.3.1

Answers

1 page 14

2 because it looks black to many predators

3 see-through or clear

4 true

5 on a stalk on top of its head

6 that they are disgusting but interesting

7 it unhinges its jaw so its mouth can open even wider.

8 No, the skeleton is made of cartilage.