Section 4 - Upcoming Activities

Activity1

Type of Activity: Competition
Start Date of Activity: August 20, 2011
End Date of Activity: August 21, 2011

Brief Description: Teknack, an online technical festival powered by ACM DBIT Students Chapter. It is a global arena for creative techies to rendezvous together and to decide who will stand out to be the greatest mind and of greatest academic acumen. The enthusiasm of the students led to the birth of Teknack 07 and has received a great response since. Teknack consists of events such as programming, designing, creativity and innovations which help in enhancing the logical, analytical and computing skills of the students, apart from building confidence and inducing a lot of fun. Being a completely online festival, students were given freedom to be at the convenience of their homes and participate giving way to bring out the best in them. The objective of this competition was to unleash the technical as well as creative genius within the students, providing them a common platform to test and showcase their skills.
